International Resource Project

Monsoon United Asian Women of Iowa's mission is to end all forms of gender-based violence and build healthy communities through transformative justice and social change. The organization functions as a resource, advocate and support for the Asian and Pacific Islander population in Iowa affected by domestic violence and sexual assault by providing crisis advocacy; individual and group counseling; assistance involving law enforcement; legal advocacy; court accompaniment; medical support and advocacy; assistance with housing, education, employment and government benefit applications; information and referrals; a community resource center; community outreach and education; youth internships; and youth programming. Despite its name, Monsoon includes males as well as the LGBTQ community in its target populations. It also extends technical assistance to other programs in providing services to API communities in Iowa and nationally.

This project is rooted in the needs of international students who are victims/survivors of gender-based violence. Based on our campus work, many international students eventually go back to their countries of origin. Monsoon believes it is necessary to compile a resource list of service providers for victims of gender-based violence in different countries in Asia, the Middle East and the Pacific. (This list do not include organizations in the U.S. Territories in the Pacific.)

This directory is compiled by the Campus Peer-to-Peer Advocate & Outreach team: Yanning Chen, Kahmun Yap, Esther Hwang, Tanvi Yenna, Sixuan Keeli Bao, Thuy Nguyen, and led by Hieu Pham.

All survivors, regardless of race or gender, can access the programs in this directory. Visit www.muawi.org for the electronic version of the directory.

For questions, corrections and/or to request additional information, please contact Monsoon United Asian Women of Iowa by email at contact@muawi.org or by phone at +1 (515) 288-0881
